This is the rosé lover’s beer. It all started with a little brewery born on a California vineyard, so you could say it was meant to be – a beer named Rosalie. This beer taps into Firestone Walker’s winemaking roots, using local wine grapes to create a delicious, one-of-a-kind beer that exhibits the best attributes of a classic rosé wine, but with even more drinkability. Rosalie begins with wine grapes harvested within a few miles of the FW brewery, specifically Chardonnay, Viognier and Orange Muscat. These grapes are pressed, and the juice is co-fermented with a light pilsner malt base. The beer is then finished with a dash of hibiscus flower for color and aroma.
