

Dogfish Head The Perfect Disguise
STYLE Double IPA	ABV 8.00%	IBUS 70
FOOD PARINGS Grilled Pork Chops, Sharp Cheddar
Is it an IPA disguised as a Kölsch? Or a Kölsch disguised as an IPA? On the surface, this beer looks like a straightforward Kölsch, brewed with a crisp Kölsch yeast and traditional German malts and hops. But, things aren't always what they seem. Your first hint that this beer is something different is the addition of a unique German chit malt that gives it a full body and a slightly creamy mouth feel. Hiding deeper behind that German disguise is the double dry-hopping of an American double IPA, with near...
